New York & LA Critics who've seen Simone on stage

in the recent past & not so have said ***...

 "Lazer, channeling Christine Baranski, offers a devilish turn and nearly runs away with the show ..."
OFFOFFonline Doug Strassler

 "It's hard to say who's more amusing: the ruthlessly ambitious Dr. Rachel Rosenbaum (Simone Lazer), who reveals every family skeleton, or ..."
THE NEW YORK LAW JOURNAL Cindy Nemser

 "The Memorial service runs riotous as niece Dr. Rachel Rosenbaum the shrink, (Simone Lazer, seriously funny) condemns this 'dysfunctional family circus' even as she touts her self-help book."
THE SUNDAY STAR LEDGER Michael Sommers

* "Praise must be given to Lazer (who plays) Dr. Rachel Rosenbaum a psychologist who, during the service, points out all of her relatives respective dysfunctions. I couldn't stop laughing!"
METRO WEST JEWISH NEWS Donna Ezor

 "Meet Grandma Sylvia's family. It's not a pretty bunch. Rachel, (that's doctor Rachel) offers an airy lecture on dysfunction and denial. The memorial service and reception are high on humor, low on philosophy. This is environmental comedy that stretches the form further yet. Best of the weekend!"
THE LOS ANGELES TIMES Janice Arkatov

 "The cast is extraordinary, seamlessly improvising and chewing the fat. My favorites were Simone Lazer as the hysterical psycho psychiatrist Dr. Rachel Rosenbaum, and Vlad."
HX Gregory Young

* "Rachel Rosenbaum, (Lazer) best selling psychoanalyst, told me I had to work on my death fantasies, shoved a business card in my hand and worked in a plug for her new book, "Mommy, Look at Me." Grandma Sylvia's Funeral was as life restoring as a hot pastrami sandwich in a cold cruel world!"
NEW YORK NEWSDAY Jan Stuart
